USE MY EXPERIENCE TO CREATE YOUR VISION

Innovation and marketing creative available to join your team

I'm here to help formulate, implement, and monetize your goals. With over 25 years' experience orchestrating commercial projects; developing and implementing life changing philanthropic programs; as well as creating traditional and digital media, my skill-set and resources produce successful results.

CAREER SUMMARY

Employed in the entertainment and philanthropy industries; I am accustomed to working on location and from home; areas of expertise are development and marketing.

SKILLS

- ▶ Strategy and implementation
- ▶ Engaging consumer markets and target audiences
- ▶ Developing campaigns for adoption, advocacy and education
- ▶ Creating traditional and digital media

TALENTS

- ▶ Needs assessor, solution architect, concept developer and implementation director
- ▶ Networking flair with a talent for courting and maintaining strategic alliances
- ▶ Knack for organizing dynamic events, diverse personalities and varied needs into a desired goal

PERSONAL STATEMENT

I thrive when a professional opportunity matches a personal passion. I love to figure out how "things work" and "people think." I'm satisfied crafting solutions that improve people's lives and protect nature.

CAREER FOCUS

I have been employed by the music, film, and publishing industries; as well as non-profits, wineries, health practitioners and art galleries.

I am interested in the preservation of our planet; redefining social services and healthcare policies, improving quality of life for those needing support; and leveraging technology to create efficient delivery models for marketing, engagement and education.

CAREER ENVIRONMENT

I like to collaborate in a flexible atmosphere that values integrity and excellence; favor business models that incorporate our planet's welfare and social equality. I function optimally in a team that encourages openness, honesty, and respect.

PERSONAL INTERESTS

I like to commune with nature, explore personal growth and business strategies, and learn about viticulture and holistic health. With friends meaningful conversations, great food, the arts and travel are favorite activities. Interested in civic matters, I am an activist at heart.

STRENGTHS

I am a creative with the credentials, skills, and resources to develop and manage innovative strategies that regularly exceed expectations.

Accustomed to employing tactics that maximize budgets without compromising quality, I have good problem solving skills and competently manage time sensitive projects with or without supervision. My preferred leadership style is democratic, agile and supportive; however, when results must be streamlined I am comfortable being authoritative.

Among peers I am known for my innate creativity; the capacity to learn new material quickly, and an inclination, bordering obsession, to achieve goals. Many are surprised by the number of colleagues I can call friends.

PROFESSIONAL HISTORY

I've collaborated with projects ranging from publicity and engagement campaigns to product packaging for the music, film and publishing industries. I also manufactured and distributed IntegraTea a traditional Chinese herbal product.

I've worked on production teams making films and promoting musicians; coordinated and stylized photo shoots and music videos; as well as held associate positions for wardrobe and makeup stylists. I've been an executive assistant for entrepreneurs, film directors, authors, and vintners.

My media experience includes the design, production and implementation of traditional and digital collateral across a spectrum of marketing channels. I have created editorial and merchandising photo essays; designed websites; fulfilled graphic assignments and produced digital illustrations.

As a publicity photographer I've been employed by The Grateful Dead, Gregg Allman, Stevie Ray Vaughan, Neil Young and the Opera National De Paris in addition to management companies and record labels. In the film industry, I produced production stills of high impact stunts and promotional editorial essays for packaging and press junkets.

I began using technology in the 80's and am still eager to learn the latest techniques for content delivery, community engagement, development models and effective workflows.

My responsibilities for IntegrAID include: Corporate management and direction; needs assessment, solution strategies, project proposals and program implementation; campaigns for adoption, advocacy, community outreach and education; media for venture funding; networking and negotiating partnership agreements, as well as arranging collaboration contracts with existing charitable organizations.
